Interests and Hobbies:

I have a very strong interest in story telling whether this be through short stories, film, theatre, or animation. To aid story telling I use illustrations, these can then form the bases for character designs. I prefer model making and puppets to depict my characters, as I can move and manipulate them to physically understand the nature of problems I may face.

I have aspirations to incorporate stop motion animation into theatre and live action films.

Directing is another aspect I'm interested in.
